CHINA SEA—COCHIN CHINA

Banda shoal erased from chart

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No 224 of 1901) that information received from the Board of Trade shows that the Banda reef in the China Sea placed on the charts in lat  $8^{\circ}$  N long  $107^{\circ}$  E, was inserted under a misapprehension as that vessel struck in September 1871 on the reef extending from Lumbukan island in Balabac strait in lat  $7^{\circ} 49'$  N, long  $117^{\circ} 12'$  E. Banda Reef has therefore been expunged from the Admiralty Charts.

PACIFIC OCEAN—LISIANSKY ISLAND

Islands to the southward

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No 226 of 1901) that the master of the British ship Springbank reports that on the 11th September 1900 his vessel struck at night on a reef lying about 11 or 12 miles south eastward of Lisiansky island. This reef which is of considerable extent was partially examined by the master of the Springbank, as the ship was entangled by shoals for 14 days in it is an opening to the eastward forming a bay encumbered with shoals, 3 miles deep.

As reefs have been previously reported in a south easterly direction from Lisiansky island and soundings obtained of from 15 to 20 fathoms in from  $25^{\circ} 43'$  to  $26^{\circ} 3'$  north latitude and  $173^{\circ} 19'$  to  $173^{\circ} 22'$  west longitude it is probable that a large bank extends for about 30 miles from Lisiansky on which are coral reefs. Vessels consequently should approach Lisiansky from the southward and eastward with great caution.

Approximate position of shoal, lat  $25^{\circ} 50'$  N, long  $173^{\circ} 45'$  W

CAUTION—The longitude of Lisiansky island has not yet been satisfactorily ascertained. It is said to be east of the position shown on the chart, viz,  $173^{\circ} 57'$  W.

The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years Surveyor General's Office

The mean pressure, temperature, &amp;c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain gauge is one foot above the ground.

- (3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's handwriting.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts to whom the candidate submits his application to decide on consideration of the certificates submitted whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principal for registration the name of the accepted candidates. The names of the candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses and also showing where each candidate is to be examined whether at the college or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement together with the fees should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3 Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4 Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5 Passed candidates should apply not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant General Public Works Department but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

6 It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

7 The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the fourth grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No 224 of 1901) that information received from the Board of Trade shows that the Banda reef in the China Sea placed on the charts in lat 8° N long 107° E, was inserted under a misapprehension, as that vessel struck, in September 1871 on the reef extending from Lumbukan island in Balabac strait in lat 7° 49' N, long 117° 12' E. Banda Reef has therefore been expunged from the Admiralty Charts.

PACIFIC OCEAN—LI LANSKY ISLAND

Reefs to the southward

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No 226 of 1901) that the master of the British ship Springbank reports that on the 11th September 1900 his vessel struck at night on a reef lying about 11 or 12 miles south eastward of Lisiansky island. This reef which is of considerable extent was partially examined by the master of the Springbank, as the ship was entangled by shoals for 14 days in it is an opening to the eastward forming a bay encumbered with shoals 3 miles deep.

As reefs have been previously reported in a south easterly direction from Lisiansky island, and soundings obtained of from 15 to 20 fathoms in from 25° 43' to 26° 3' north latitude, and 173° 13' to 173° 22' west longitude, it is probable that a large bank extends for about 50 miles from Lisiansky on which are coral reefs. Vessels consequently should approach Lisiansky from the southward and eastward with great caution.

Approximate position of shoal, lat 25° 50' N, long 173° 45' W

CAUTION—The longitude of Lisiansky island has not yet been satisfactorily ascertained. It is said to be east of the position shown on the chart, viz, 173° 57' W.

The mean pressure of the seven days

The average pressure of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor General's Office

The total number of hours of bright sunshine

The maximum possible number of hours of sunshine

The mean temperature of the seven days

The average temperature of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor General's Office

The extreme variation of temperature

The maximum temperature

The highest velocity of the wind in one hour

The mean relative humidity

The average relative humidity of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor General's Office

The total fall of rain from 28th April to 4th May 1901

The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor General's Office

The total fall from 1st January to 4th May 1901

The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor General's Office

The mean pressure, temperature &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

No 128<sup>N.R.</sup> dated Calcutta, the 29th March 1901

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India Finance and Commerce Department

Read—

Letter in the Finance and Commerce Department No 64 28.R dated the 30th October 1900 with enclosure

Read also—

Letter from the Government of Bengal No 231 (Marin) dated the 20th November 1900

Burma 409—45 11 dated the 14th December 1900

Madras 23 (Marin) dated the 11th January 1901

Bombay 13C dated the 14th January 1901

OBSERVATIONS—In the letter in the Finance and Commerce Department above cited Maritime Local Governments were asked how the law on the subject of apprenticing Eurasians to sea service has been interpreted in practice and whether as a matter of fact Eurasians have been refused apprenticeship

The replies show that very few Eurasians have presented themselves for apprenticeship in past years but the law on the subject is differently interpreted in different provinces. In Calcutta the provision made in section 2 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act (V of 1883) for the employment of native seamen is understood to be applicable to Eurasians and they are not allowed to be shipped as seamen without a stipulation providing for their return to British India

The Government of India are of opinion that the words Native Seamen as used in the section above mentioned should not be held to include Statutory Natives but should be read in the ordinary meaning of the word Native as referring to the indigenous as opposed to the European or Eurasian inhabitants of India. The law as it at present stands does not preclude the apprenticing of Eurasians to sea service or prevent their being shipped as seamen on merchant vessels on the same terms as Europeans and there is no legal bar to their being so employed

RESOLUTION—His Excellency the Governor General in Council considers it undesirable that any restrictions should be imposed by the executive orders of Local Governments on the employment of Eurasians on merchant vessels and any instructions on the subject which it may be thought advisable to issue to Port Officers, should be reported for the previous approval of the Government of India

ORDER—Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to the Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal and Burma

The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College Sibpur on the 1st Monday in July. The examination will be conducted either at the College or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph) in Bengal Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements in regard to the place and hour of examination with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices

(a) Rodhinter's Mensuration for Beginners.

(b) Book keeping by Ball and Hamilton

Book keeping by double and single entry by W Inglis (Chambers' Practical Arithmetic)

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non pensionable establishment on State Railways.

2 The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs 10 and the following certificates and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch but none will be returned—

- (1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed or to whom he may be well known (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application)
- (2) Certificate of age (bi-metrical not birth not required if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ)
- (3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's handwriting

NOTE—A candidate for the examination must submit his application through his immediate superior officer, and must state whether he desires to be examined at the College or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear at the examination or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the college or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3 Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4 Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fees and certificates.

5 Passed candidates should apply not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant General Public Works Department but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

6 It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

7 The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the fourth grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

PACIFIC OCEAN—LISIANSKY ISLAND

Reefs to the southward

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No 226 of 1901) that the master of the British ship Springbank reports that on the 11th September 1900 his vessel struck at night on a reef lying about 11 or 12 miles south eastward of Lisiansky island. This reef, which is of considerable extent was partially examined by the master of the Springbank as the ship was entangled by shoals for 14 days, in it is an opening to the eastward forming a bay encumbered with shoals 3 miles deep.

As reefs have been previously reported in a south easterly direction from Lisiansky island and soundings obtained of from 15 to 20 fathoms in from  $25^{\circ} 43'$  to  $26^{\circ} 3'$  north latitude, and  $173^{\circ} 19'$  to  $173^{\circ} 22'$  west longitude it is probable that a large bank extends for about 30 miles from Lisiansky on which are coral reefs. Vessels consequently should approach Lisiansky from the southward and eastward with great caution.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore .003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0.2 lower, and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0.6 higher than the Kew Standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF APRIL 1901

DURING the greater part of April ordinary hot season conditions were generally prevalent. While there was a greater absence than usual of any widespread or general disturbance such as not unfrequently occurs during the hot season and is due to the eastward passage of a depression which has originated in North Western India there were considerable local changes at times. Pressure, temperature and wind directions underwent rather larger and sudden variations and with these changes there was a tendency to the formation of local disturbances and scattered rainfall. These variations were particularly noticeable in the east and more especially in Assam where in the course of a day or two temperature would change from being considerably in excess to being as much in defect.

In ordinary conditions these changes would probably be connected with disturbed weather over a wide area, and with a more or less established state of the atmosphere, it may be of the higher levels and the irregularities of the past month would consequently be due to that month being a time of change from one set of established conditions to another. Indications that some such change is in progress are sufficiently strong and particularly as regards rainfall though the change being probably on a much larger scale than what is usually noticed under the title of weather it is slow in its development.

For some months a noticeable feature of the weather in the north and east has been the absence of rainfall, an absence which for the month under review has been only partial. All divisions of the Province have received more than their normal amount except North Bengal and Bihar where however, compared with the normal there has been a considerable deficiency. In Assam, where of late months rainfall has been much in defect there has been a very marked improvement more especially in Cachar where as shown by the reports published for Silchar, there has been a considerable excess. Silchar received 7.3 inches during April which is about 2 inches below the amount usual in that month.

Assuming therefore in explanation of the irregularities noticed above that an important general change is in progress which will take some time to establish and which is probably not in any way connected with the approaching monsoon season it merely remains to notice the more marked oscillations in the various meteorological elements. Almost throughout the month the daily oscillations were more abrupt than is usual in settled weather and with these sudden changes local disturbances with light scattered rainfall were of not unfrequent occurrence, except in Bihar. But there was one period of more marked disturbance about the end of the third week, when pressure was low over Bengal, and the greater part of the rainfall of the month occurred.

At the beginning of the month the pressure distribution was very nearly normal over both the Bay and the Province. There was a general small excess which diminished from the south west of the Bay north eastward and was practically zero in the south of Assam. Winds were westerly or south westerly, except in the northern districts and temperature was usually 1° or 2° in excess. This pressure arrangement had followed a general brisk fall over the northern districts and as there was a brisk rise in the north east on the 2nd the north easterly winds extended southwards as far as Chota Nagpur. The cyclonic circulation of winds was accompanied by local disturbances with fairly general light rainfall in North and East Bengal, and a large reduction of temperature over the whole Province. On the 4th and 5th the pressure distribution was uniform, winds were light and westerly inland, and temperature was recovering in the east.

On the 6th a brisk fall of pressure began in the east and extended westward, being greatest in the western districts on the 7th but there was little change in the general weather conditions. With the exception of a few light scattered showers the rainfall was confined to the extreme east, where there was again a considerable reduction of temperature. From the 8th to the 11th settled conditions prevailed, with pressure normal, winds west or south west, except in the east, and temperature in small excess.

On the 12th pressure fell briskly and unsettled weather recommenced but again it was chiefly in the extreme east, as very little rain fell in any part of Bengal. On the 14th Silchar received about 4 and on the 15th 2 inches of rain. Between the 12th and 15th a shallow depression was over Bengal, with a steep gradient to the south, and the winds in the north west angle of the Bay attained to the greatest strength recorded during April. At Saugor Island the average velocity on the 13th was 33 and on the 15th 30 miles an hour. This depression to a great extent filled up on the 16th and 17th, when there was an almost normal distribution over the Bay and the Province. The greatest defect was then 0.6 inch in the extreme north.

On the 18th the fall of pressure began, which was the first indication of the disturbed weather at the end of the third week. The fall commenced in Assam and extended westward, being general over the Province on the 19th. This was followed by a rise on the 20th and a steep gradient over Bengal on the 21st. The rainfall which began on the 18th was in the early stage of the disturbance most general but only light in Lower Bengal. After the changes had passed westward, the rainfall ceased as the 20th was practically without rain, except in Orissa and Chota Nagpur. Between the 18th and 21st the daily changes were such as usually occur when a shallow depression is moving from east to west over the Province

On the 21st a reversal of these changes began and between that date and the 23rd a shallow depression was moving from west to east with a tendency southward. In consequence of the frequent changes in the wind circulation due to the movement of the depression being first from east to west and then from west to east thunderstorms with more or less heavy rain were of daily occurrence in the southern and eastern districts, and it was not till the 24th that settled weather was fairly general.

During the last week pressure was high over the Province and as it was relatively low over the Bay, the gradient was not so steep as usual. Wind force fell off and temperature rose till there was again a large excess in the north-east but there was continuous cool weather for the season in the south-western districts. Though pressure was high, weather was not so settled as is usual in such circumstances. Local storms continued and were at times fairly numerous in the southern districts up to the end of the month.

Pressure changes were never large, but owing to the somewhat unsettled state of the atmosphere almost throughout the month the oscillations were larger than usually occur except when weather is being influenced by a disturbance of some magnitude. The variation from the normal was also less regular and continuous in either direction than usual and consequently the averages for the month are practically normal. In the western districts there is a slight excess and elsewhere a slight defect generally under 0.2 inch.

Temperature was generally above the normal in the early part of the month and again towards the end while about the end of the third week there was a period of cool weather which followed the general disturbance of that time. The low temperatures then prevalent slowly disappeared after the rise of pressure on the 24th except in the south-west where there was a continuous defect especially on the last day of the month.

The variation as usually happens during the hot season, was much greater in the day than in the night as the occurrence of cloudy weather is followed by a large reduction in the maximum reading with probably little or no change in the minimum reading.

The average variation for April from the normal maximum temperature ranges from defect of 2° at Chabassa to excess of 5° in part of North Bengal. The variation from the normal minimum is much smaller there being a general small excess except in the northern districts, where there is a small defect.

The average mean excess for the month is 2°.4 in North Bengal 1°.8 in East Bengal and a little under 1° in South-West Bengal. In other parts of the Province and Assam the variation is small.

Rainfall.—Scattered showers were more frequent than usual except in Bihar and North Bengal but these showers were in many cases light and scattered and did not add materially to the total for the month except what fell at the end of the third week when moderately heavy rainfall was general in the east and south of the Province. In East Bengal the fall was more than half an inch in excess in South-West Bengal the average excess was 8 inch, and in Orissa 4 inch, while in Bihar about one sixth of the usual amount fell, and in North Bengal a little over 1 inch instead of the usual amount of 3 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the month of April 1901—

The mean pressure temperature, &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the New Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86 formerly at the Surveyor General's Office.

The wind elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed at the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The height of the wind gauge is one foot above the ground.

12 Every student is required to conform to the College rules, to exhibit due diligence in his studies throughout the course and to give evidence of satisfactory progress in such manner as may be required failing which, or in the event of serious misconduct he will be liable to be removed from the College, or to be sent back from the foreign study, which may entail the loss of his appointment

13 During the course of study, the proficiency of the students will be tested by periodical examinations and on the termination of their studies there will be a final examination Each student may also at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India be required from time to time to appear before the medical board, and should the result be unsatisfactory he cannot claim to be allowed to complete the course

14 The subjects enumerated in paragraph 11 are grouped in certain main branches of study,* and a fixed minimum of qualification is required in each branch and in the subjects taught during the forest tours, as well as a certain minimum for all branches taken together Students who obtain these minima will receive the College diploma in Forestry

15 Candidates who have obtained this diploma and are found to be of sound constitution and free from physical defects which would render them unsuitable for employment in the Forest Department (the final decision on which points will rest with the Secretary of State for India), will be appointed Assistant Conservators in the Forest Department of India in the order of their standing at the end of the final examination. They will be allowed before leaving the College to state their preference in respect to the Provinces to which they desire to be allotted, but the distribution will be made to the several Provinces according to the needs of the public service at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India after consulting the President of the College. Officers are, however, at all times liable to be transferred from one Province to another at the pleasure of the Government of India.

16. Within a month of his nomination as Assistant Conservator, each nominee must sign articles of agreement describing the terms and conditions of his appointment. He must embark for India when required to do so by the Secretary of State and will be provided with a free passage. Failure to embark at the stated time will, in the absence of satisfactory explanation, lead to forfeiture of appointment.

17. The pay of an Assistant Conservator of Forests will begin from the date of reporting arrival in India. Probationers who acquit themselves creditably during their course at Cooper's Hill College will begin on a salary of Rs. 350 a month. It will, however, rest with the President of the College to decide whether any of the probationers, though they have obtained the College diploma in Forestry, have failed to deserve that rate of initial salary. Such probationers, if any, will begin on a salary of Rs. 250 a month, and this difference of salary will continue until the first departmental examination is passed in India. Officers entering the Forest Service will be required to contribute a subscription ranging from a compulsory minimum of 5 per cent up to a voluntary maximum of 10 per cent of their salary to the Forest Officers' Provident Fund. Such contributions, with compound interest, will accumulate till the date of retirement, when the total sum will be paid to the contributor, or, in the event of death before retirement, to his legal representative.

18. Promotion, leave and pension will be governed by the regulations laid down by the Government of India and made applicable to Forest officers such regulations being subject to any modifications or alterations which may be made in them from time to time by the Government of India, and their interpretation in case of any doubt arising being left to that Government. The pension rules applicable to Public Works and Telegraph officers appointed from Cooper's Hill College have been extended to Forest officers appointed from England, and the Inspector General of Forests and Conservators of the 1st grade are now eligible for the extra pension of Rs. 100 per annum admissible to an officer after at least three years of approved service as a head of a department in any province if considered deserving of the special concession. A copy of the Regulations relative to these matters can be seen on application either at the Library or the Record Department of the India Office; the principal rules are contained in the Abstract of the Civil Service Regulations as given in the 'India List and India Office List' published by Messrs. Harrison and Sons, 59, Pall Mall, London, which can be procured through any book seller.

19. Every candidate before proceeding to India, will be required to furnish to the President of the College satisfactory evidence of his competency in riding.

22. The students are distributed in divisions under personal charge of one of the Professors or Lecturers selected by the President, such tutor being responsible for exercising the proper degree of personal supervision over each student in his division, and for conducting necessary correspondence with the student's parents or guardians.

23. Each student residing in the College is provided with a separate room, and with fuel and light, also with the necessary attendance. Furniture and bedding are supplied by the College, but students are required to provide their own towels and bed linen. Meals are taken in Hall. 26. Student not nominated for the Indian Forest Service may be received into the College, as far as the available accommodation permits. Such students may pass through the course of instruction provided for the nominees of the Indian Forest Service, as detailed above, or they may be permitted to participate in the instruction given in certain subjects only.

On attaining the prescribed minima of marks in the several branches of study and in totals as laid down above they will receive, as the case may require either the College diploma in Forestry or special certificates showing in what subjects they have followed the instruction, and with what result

27 Candidates who desire to be admitted under paragraph 26 may submit the necessary application at any time, but not later than the 15th day of June of the year named for admission except with the special permission of the President. The application must be made on the prescribed forms, which can be obtained from the Secretary of the College

28 Candidates whose applications are found satisfactory as to character and in other respects will be required to undergo an examination, to be held at the College about the last week in June of the year for admission. The object of the examination will be to ascertain whether the candidate is qualified to follow the course of instruction with advantage (or certain parts of it, as the case may be). Candidates who do not come up to the required standard will not be admitted to the College

The President may dispense with the whole or any portion of this examination in the case of a candidate who produces an University diploma, or other similar certificate granted by a recognised examining body

29 Candidates admitted to the College under paragraph 26, who propose to pass through the full prescribed course of study, will be required to pay the same fees in every respect as those paid by the nominees for the India Forest Service. Candidates who do not become resident and are admitted only to certain subjects of study, will be required to pay the fees which may be fixed in each special case in consideration of the extent of their studies. The candidates of both classes will be required to abide by the general rules of the College

MEDICAL

Dated Darjeeling, the 14th May 1901

READ—

Letter from the Inspector General of Police No 4430, dated the <sup>30th</sup><sub>23rd</sub> April 1901, reporting on the working of the Chittagong Pilgrim Camp during the season 1900 1901

As in previous years, the Inspector General of Police, Lower Provinces, was placed in charge of the arrangements for despatching pilgrims to the Hedjaz from the port of Chittagong during the season 1900 1901, and the report submitted by him describing the arrangements made for this purpose is published herewith for general information. By the orders of the Government of India, pilgrimage was at first permitted, so far as Bengal was concerned, from the Chittagong Division only. Subsequently, however, on the representation of the Muhammadan Literary Society of Calcutta, which was supported by this Government, the orders were so modified as to permit of the pilgrimage being made from the Chota Nagpur, Orissa, Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions also.

2 The pilgrim camp at Chittagong was opened on 1st December 1900 and the total number of pilgrims despatched was 2,270, of whom 1,791 were from Bengal alone. They were sent in four steamers, the Ashraf, which sailed on the 3rd January 1901 with 629 pilgrims, the Taher, which sailed on the 27th January with 692 pilgrims, the Akbar, which sailed on the 16th February with 497 pilgrims, and the Muhammad, which sailed on the 17th February with 452 pilgrims. As the 17th February was the latest date for sailing, and no pilgrims who left Chittagong after that date could reach the Hedjaz in time for the pilgrimage, the pilgrim camp was then closed.

3 In order to prevent pilgrims from obtaining admission into the Chittagong camp by giving false addresses, the Inspector General of Police suggests that intending pilgrims should be required to obtain before starting for Chittagong, a certificate of residence from the District Magistrate or Subdivisional Officer of the district or subdivision in which they permanently reside, bearing the left thumb impression of the person to whom it is issued.

The suggestion commends itself to the Lieutenant Governor, and the Government of India will be requested to sanction its adoption in the provinces from which pilgrimage may be permitted in future years. The proposal of the Magistrate to open a temporary station at the camp at which pilgrims can be detained without entering the town is also approved. The proposal made by the Inspector General to restrict the sale of railway tickets to Chittagong to such of the intending pilgrims only as have received the abovementioned certificates seems to the Lieutenant Governor to be impracticable, and he is unable to sanction it.

4 The number of pilgrims despatched from Chittagong shows a progressive annual increase, the numbers being as follows—

|---------|-------|-----------|-------|
| 1897-98 | 708   | 1899-1900 | 1,870 |
| 1898-99 | 1,116 | 1900-1901 | 2,270 |

The increasing numbers may constitute a danger to Chittagong, which is the only important port in Bengal now free from plague. In view of this the Magistrate has proposed that additional accommodation, which should be of the nature of an "observation camp" should be put up outside the pilgrim camp proper for the occupation of intending pilgrims for whom there is no room in the camp itself. This will be considered after the Inspector General of Police has visited Chittagong and discussed matters with the local authorities and the Sanitary Commissioner.

5 The thanks of the Lieutenant Governor are due to the Inspector General of Police and to the gentlemen named by him for the excellent manner in which they carried out the work.

ORDER—Ordered that this Resolution, as well as the Report from the Inspector General of Police on the subject of the pilgrimage arrangements, be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy of the Resolution and of the Report be submitted to the Government of India for information.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

F. N. BAKER,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

No 4430 dated Calcutta, the 4th April 1901

From—W. R. BRIDGES Esq. Inspector General of Police, L. P.

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal Municipal (Medical) Dept.

I HAVE the honour to report on the working of the Chittagong Pilgrim Camp during the season 1900-1901.

2 Under the terms of India Government, Home Department, Notification No 2617, dated the 26th October 1900, all Indian ports, except Kuchai in Sind and Chittagong in the Lower Provinces, were closed to pilgrims for Mecca, and it was decided that Chittagong should be the port of embarkation for pilgrims from Bengal, Assam, Burma and the eastern portion of the North Western Provinces and Oudh. The arrangements for the despatch of pilgrims from Chittagong were, as in the past three seasons, placed in my charge by Bengal Government (Municipal Department) letter No 9241—P, dated the 5th November 1900.

The pilgrimage for this season was at first closed against residents of the Bombay Presidency (excluding Sind), the Madras Presidency, the Mysore State, Coorg, the Jullunder district of the Punjab, and Bengal (excepting the Chittagong Division). Subsequently, by India Government letter No 3032, dated the 22nd December 1900, the prohibition against residents of the Dacca, Rajshahi, Chota Nagpur and Orissa Divisions was withdrawn.

(a) The work of repairing the existing camp at Chittagong was commenced in September last at an estimated cost of Rs 4,017, and was completed in good time. The camp was originally designed to accommodate 800 pilgrims, and proved sufficient so long as the complement of passengers for a single steamer had to be dealt with, but when permission was received at the end of December as mentioned above to admit residents of Dacca, Rajshahi, Chota Nagpur and Orissa, there was a rush of pilgrims from some of those Divisions and it was found necessary to increase the accommodation, in order that all intending pilgrims might be shipped in time to arrive at Mecca before the principal day of the pilgrimage which this year fell on the 29th March.

(b) Accordingly 11 additional barracks were constructed and it was thus possible to deal at the same time with the complement of pilgrims for the two last steamers which were despatched within a day of one another.

(c) The camp, as it then stood, had accommodation for 1,000 pilgrims. A sum of Rs 9,147 was expended on the additions to the camp including the construction, at the instance of the Collector of Chittagong, of three sheds on the west of the railway line, which were provided on the recommendation of the Sanitary Commissioner for pilgrims awaiting admission to the camp.

(d) The land on which the camp proper stands belongs to the Assam Bengal Railway Company, which has kindly placed it temporarily at the disposal of Government, but the sheds mentioned above, on the further side of the railway line, are on a piece of arable land, about 20 acres in extent. Such, it would appear from the District Magistrate's report forwarded to Government under the Commissioner's memorandum No 5001, dated the 8th February 1901, has been taken over in an informal manner, and regarding which it is necessary now to decide whether it shall be given up or regularly acquired.

The questions raised by the Commissioner are fully discussed in paragraph 12 of this report dealing with the conservancy of the camp.

On receipt of the orders of Government permitting the pilgrimage for this season, the usual notice in English, Hindi and Urdu was circulated through the agency of the Police in the tract from which pilgrimage was permitted. Copies were also sent to the several Muhammadan Associations. The notice mentioned the approximate date of sailing of the pilgrim steamers and the contribution as to carriage, &c., imposed on intending pilgrims. The fare from Chittagong to Jeddah, including diet, was at first fixed at Rs 80 per head. This rate was adhered to for all the pilgrims who travelled by the first steamer. The fare was later reduced to Rs 75, and was maintained at that figure till the close of the season.

The pilgrims were also required to deposit with the Superintendent the amount of the railway and steamer fare for the return journey from the port of embarkation to their homes.

A further charge of Rs 3 per head for the fixed dues payable at Camaran and Jeddah was made on the pilgrims this year for the first time under Government order No 3156<sup>M</sup>, dated the 22nd December 1900. This money was handed over to the Agents of the Steamship Companies who arranged for its payment to the Turkish authorities through the masters of the pilgrim vessels.

Mr K. B. Thacker, my Personal Assistant was entrusted with the business of determining the fares and of fixing the date of sailing in consultation with the Superintendent of the Camp and the Steamer Agents. The steamers engaged in order of their sailing were the Ashraf, Ishar and Akbar belonging to Haji Kasim Yusuf of Bombay, and the Mohammadi of the Bombay Persia Steam Navigation Company's fleet.

The sale of tickets and collection of the return journey fares and the fixed dues payable to the Turkish authorities was carried out by the Superintendent of the Camp.

5 A guard of 3 head constables and 22 constables was deputed, as in former years, from surrounding districts for duty at the camp, in addition to the camp guard of 1 head constable and 4 constables sanctioned in Government order No 2741 - P, dated the 23rd June 1899. With the extension of the camp to accommodate 1,500 pilgrims, the guard was strengthened by 2 head constables and 15 constables drawn from other districts. As no extra force was entertained to replace the men so deputed, the policing of the camp did not involve any extra cost to Government on account of salary. The officers and men (all Muhammadans) were given free rations instead of butta, as was done in previous years.

6 The following ministerial and menial establishments were sanctioned by Government order No 2706<sup>M</sup>, dated the 19th November 1900 —

| Total                      |                 | 279 |

Owing to the enlargement of the camp, a second clerk, sanctioned in Government order No 468<sup>M</sup>, dated the 20th February 1901 was engaged from the 24th January 1901 on Rs 30 per mensem. His pay was reduced, however, from the 1st February to Rs 15 per mensem. Under orders of Government, an Assistant Surgeon was deputed to have medical charge of the camp.

7 The camp opened on the 1st December 1900. The arrangements for diet, water supply, lighting and conservancy were the same as in previous years. A full description has been given in previous reports and need not be repeated here. The women were, as in previous years, allotted separate buildings, with their own privies, bathing platforms and drinking water hydrants, the whole enclosed by a high fence to ensure privacy. It was necessary, in view of the increased number of pilgrims admitted towards the close of the season, to sink another well to supplement the supply from the two existing wells. The Deputy Sanitary Commissioner remarked in his inspection reports that the covers of the wells were defective, and that there was risk of contamination owing to the pilgrims using their own buckets &c, to draw. The Executive Engineer, Dacca Division, will be asked to provide proper covers with padlocks before the next pilgrim season.

8 The supply of food was entrusted to a contractor selected by the District Superintendent of Police, Cuttack. His stores were inspected daily by the Assistant Surgeon.

The scale of rations was as follows —

| Bengal and Middle India |                | Up-country men per diem per head |     |
|-------------------------|----------------|----------------------------------|-----|
| Chittaks                |                | (Chittaks)                       |     |

The food was cooked before issue. Luxuries, such as poultry, tobacco, tea, &c., were obtainable from the contractor at market rates.

9 The number of pilgrims despatched during the season was 2,270. Some 500 others were turned back to their homes owing to the loss of the SS Kassar, in which they were to have sailed. No other steamer could be procured at the time.

In the preceding years the numbers despatched were as follows —

|                                |       |
|--------------------------------|-------|
| 1897-98—From Raniganj camp     | 708   |
| 1898-99—From Chittagong camp   | 1,446 |
| 1899-1900—From Chittagong camp | 1,879 |

The progressive increase indicates that the objections, if any, which previously existed, to the restrictions imposed on the pilgrimage since 1897, when the system of camps was first started, are rapidly disappearing.

The date of sailing of the steamers and the usual information regarding age, sex and nationality of the pilgrims are given below in tabular form —

| Date of sailing  | NAME OF STEAMER    | Infants | Children under 15 | UNDER 45 |       | OVER 45 |       | Total |

Details are given below regarding the number of pilgrims supplied by the different countries and provinces —

|                         |       |
|-------------------------|-------|
| Kashgar                 | 54    |

| North Western Provinces | 37    |
| Assam                   | 266   |
| Bengal                  | 1,791 |
| Total                   | 2,200 |

10 (a) Of the 2,200 pilgrims despatched, two spent the period of 10 days' sequestration at the camp of other provinces, and were then sent to Chittagong by rail in reserved compartments which were previously disinfected. The others were detained in the Chittagong camp for not less than 10 days.

(b) The personal purity and wearing apparel of the pilgrims were carefully disinfected before admission. All cotton stuffs were steeped in a solution of perchloride of mercury and then boiled in a Larymore boiler of the pattern used in the G. I. Woollen clothing and articles liable to injury by boiling were placed in a hot air chamber and subjected to a temperature of over 236° F. for 90 minutes.

(c) The Deputy Sanitary Commissioner, who visited the camp on the 24th January, 1901, pointed out the inadequacy of the disinfecting apparatus. If the camp is to be maintained at Chittagong for another season, it will be necessary to provide another boiler and a large "equitex" disinfecter for the coming season

(d) On the date of sailing the pilgrims were, as usual, taken by special train from the camp to the riverside

(e) The first three steamers were unable, on account of their draught, to enter the river, and the pilgrims had to be conveyed to the mouth of the river in local craft towed by a steam tug or on a tender

(f) The Mohammah was able to come alongside the wharf at Chittagong, and the pilgrims went on board direct from the train

11 a) It was found this year that intending pilgrims from prohibited districts had gained admission to the camp by representing that they were residents of districts from which pilgrimage was permitted

(b) This matter was brought to notice, and under orders of the Government of India, conveyed in your letter No 3153<sup>M</sup><sub>I</sub>, dated the 28th December 1900, all such persons were turned out of the camp. I was directed also in that letter to report whether any means could be devised to prevent similar evasion of orders in future. The only way I see is that it should be laid down in the regulations for the next season that intending pilgrims shall before starting for Chittagong, obtain a certificate of residence from the District Magistrate or Subdivisional Officer of the district or subdistrict in which they permanently reside, that the certificate shall bear the left thumb impression of the person to whom it is issued, and that without such certificate no person will be admitted to the camp, or be supplied with a railway ticket. It will be necessary at the same time to instruct officers empowered to issue certificates to ascertain from the Superintendent of the Camp that accommodation is available in the camp and to regulate the issue of certificates accordingly

(c) The sale of railway tickets to Chittagong might also be restricted, in the case of intending pilgrims, to those who have received certificates from the District Magistrate. On this point, however, I should like to consult some of the chief Muhammadan gentlemen to see if this plan would be feasible. If desired, I will do so and report the result

12 In your letter No 521<sup>M</sup><sub>I</sub>, dated the 28th February 1901, I was directed to discuss certain proposals put forward by the District Magistrate and the Commissioner of Chittagong for the management of the future camps with a view to lessen the risk of introducing plague or other infectious diseases into the town and district of Chittagong through the annual influx of pilgrims who, while awaiting admission into the camp, have been in the habit of living in the bazars of Chittagong town or, as happened during the last season, in temporary huts run up in the fields to the west of the camp and separated from it only by the strip of land enclosed within the railway fencing

The proposals are—

(1) to open a temporary station at the camp at which all intending pilgrims shall detrain and to prohibit their entry into the town of Chittagong,

(2) to put up temporary accommodation for 600 pilgrims outside the camp proper, but under control of the Superintendent of the Camp and his conservancy staff, in order that pilgrims awaiting admission to the camp may be housed under proper sanitary conditions

I am entirely in accord with the local officials in their first proposal. It appears from the correspondence that, during the past season, the Railway authorities arranged to detrain pilgrims at the camp. There should be no difficulty in making similar arrangements for the next season

As regards the second proposal, i.e., to construct an "observation camp," within which intending pilgrims, who after arrival cannot be accommodated in the main camp, are to be kept, I think that some such camp should be advisable if it is considered that we should safeguard Chittagong. The size would depend upon the extent to which we can regulate arrivals. As I believe it has been found impracticable to arrange dates beforehand for the departure of steamers, there will always be some people who will arrive within the ten days' quarantine enforced before the departure of the steamer, and for these it would be well to have a camp. I do not know the area of land at present occupied by our camp, though I have a map of it, and I therefore do not know how many people can be accommodated there. The camp has recently been almost, if not quite, entirely destroyed by fire, and, in view of the sanitary defects disclosed in the Sanitary Commissioner's note, it would be advisable to take the opportunity afforded by its destruction to lay it out on sanitary principles. I would suggest that, as the matter is by no means urgent, this part of the whole question and the question of construction of an observation camp might stand over until the rains, when I could visit the place and discuss matters with the local authorities and the Sanitary Commissioner, if necessary.

13 The Assistant Surgeon examined all pilgrims before admitting them into the camp. There was no death among the pilgrims in the camp, though in January there were five deaths from cholera amongst intending pilgrims awaiting admission to the camp. The huts, in which these cases occurred, were immediately burnt down and no further cases occurred. Towards the end of January there was an outbreak among the coolies working in the camp erecting new barracks. Timely precautions were taken, and the disease did not spread to the pilgrims.

About the same time, a case of small pox occurred among the pilgrims. The patient was at once removed to the segregation hut, from where he was removed by his friends.

The general health of the pilgrims was good except for a few cases of fever.

14 The camp was closed on the 17th February when the last batch of pilgrims embarked. The police guards from the neighbouring districts were sent back, and the staff of sweepers and cooks was discharged on the following day. The property of the camp was, as usual, made over to the Collector of Chittagong for safe custody.

15 I have much pleasure in acknowledging the despatch with which the Executive Engineer, Dacca Division, and his subordinates carried out the work of repairs to, and extension of, the camp.

Messrs R. B. Hyde, T. C. Simpson and F. R. Ezechiel, Assistant District Superintendents of Police, held charge of the Camp at different times. These officers seem to have worked satisfactorily. Each received an allowance of Rs 100 a month as sanctioned by Government during the period he remained in charge.

16 A statement of expenditure incurred on the camp will be submitted to Government later on, in a complete form, after verification by the Accountant General. At present I am in communication with all officers concerned, who have had to deal with expenditure in connection with the camp, with a view to incorporating their accounts in those of the Superintendent, for transmission to Government.

5 Under Rule IV of the Regulations framed by the Governor General in Council with the sanction of the Secretary of State under section 1 (4) of the Indian Councils Act, 1892, for Bengal, the Lieutenant Governor now desires that the Commissioner of the Patna Division will at once address the Chairmen of the District Boards enumerated in the above list, requesting them to convene a special meeting of their Board at which one member of the Board may be selected to represent them for the purpose of making the recommendation for the seat in Council. The name of the representative so selected must be reported at once by the Chairman to the Commissioner of the Division.

6 The period of three months laid down in Rule VII of the Regulations as that within which a recommendation shall be made to the Lieutenant Governor will run from the date on which the Commissioner of the Division issues his request to the Chairmen of the District Boards.

7 As soon as the representatives have been selected, they will be called upon by the Commissioner of the Division to meet together on an early and convenient date, with special reference to the limit of time imposed under Rule VII of the Regulations, and at such convenient place as he may specify, for the purpose of electing, by a majority of votes, a person whom they will recommend to the Lieutenant Governor to be nominated as a member of the Council. The names of all candidates put forward at such meeting shall be duly proposed by one of the representatives present. The election shall be by ballot, and the person elected must obtain a majority of the votes of the representatives present. If on the occasion of the first ballot an absolute majority is not obtained, the candidate who obtains the least number of votes shall be withdrawn from the election, and another ballot shall then be held for the remaining candidates, and so on, until an absolute majority is obtained. In the event of a tie occurring at any stage, candidates shall draw lots.

8 The electoral representatives present at this meeting shall elect one of themselves to be Chairman, and he shall preside and be responsible for the fair and proper exercise of the ballot vote.

9 The Chairman of the meeting shall without delay report to the Commissioner of the Division the name of the person elected, with the number of votes obtained, and any other information which it may appear desirable to communicate, and on behalf of the meeting shall recommend to the Lieutenant Governor to nominate for the Council the person so elected. The Commissioner shall submit the report from the Chairman of the meeting, with any observations he may wish to add, to the Chief Secretary to Government, by whom the recommendation will be submitted to the Lieutenant Governor.

10 Attention is drawn to the following Rule VI of the Regulations which have been framed by the Governor General in Council and Secretary of State —

VI —It shall be a condition in the case of any person to be recommended by a Municipal Corporation, or group of Municipal Corporations, that he shall be a person ordinarily resident within the Municipality or the district in which it is situated, or in some one of the municipalities constituting the group or of the districts in which they are situated. A similar condition shall also apply to persons to be recommended by District Boards.

Under this rule it is not necessary that persons recommended shall be members of any District Board concerned, but they must be ordinarily resident within the Division from which the recommendation is made. Subject to this condition, the rules declare no limit of qualification, and it is left to the representatives to recommend a person under Rule V (c) according to the majority of their votes.

11 It is desirable that the subsidiary arrangements now sanctioned shall, as far as possible, be given effect to by the District Boards concerned with the minimum of official interference. The Divisional Commissioner and the District Magistrates will, of course, afford any assistance which may be required, and will do their utmost to facilitate the smooth working of the elections, but Government officers are forbidden to take part, directly or indirectly, in the election by canvassing, influencing votes, or otherwise interfering with the free choice of the District Boards. No indication should be given by any official member of any of the District Boards concerned as to the manner in which he himself intends to vote.

ORDERED that a copy of this Resolution be furnished to the Commissioner of the Patna Division for information and guidance and for communication to the District Boards in his Division.

Ordered also that a copy be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg Chief Secretary to the Govt of Bengal

FINAL REPORT ON THE OILSEED CROPS
OF BENGAL, 1900 1901

THE following is published for general information

F A SLACKE,

The 20th May 1901

Secy to the Govt of Bengal

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL

Final Report on the Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1900 1901

Explanatory —This forecast furnishes the final estimates of the area and outturn of all the various kinds of oilseeds (rabi and bhadai) grown in these Provinces

Character of the season —The monsoon rains were fitful and irregular during the past year. In September the fall was general and heavy, while in several districts of Lower Bengal it was altogether abnormal. There was very little rain in the two following months, and in December also the fall was in defect everywhere, excepting Orissa and parts of Bihar. The rainfall in January and February was very much in excess of the normal in most parts of the Province, but was deficient in North and East Bengal. In March the fall has been deficient all over the Province. On the whole, the season has been decidedly unfavourable to the oilseed crops generally, which have suffered from an excess of rain in many districts and from a comparative drought in others.

Area sown —The normal area under the several oilseed crops is estimated as 4,022,600 acres, out of which 3,805,700 acres are reported to have been sown this year. This apparent contraction in the area is due chiefly to local variations, which have been insufficiently explained, and only in a small measure to the unfavourable nature of the season. Last year, only 3,638,400 acres were cultivated with oilseed crops in this Province.

Character of the crop —From the abstract of the district returns given in Appendix I, it will be seen that out of the 45 districts in the Province, only one (Saran, 120 per cent) reports a crop above the normal, and that three districts only (Birbhum, Darjeeling, and Champaran) estimate a normal crop. In 9 districts (Rajshahi, Dinajpur, Backergunge, Bhagalpur, Purnea, Malda, Cuttack, Ranchi, and Manbhum) the estimate varies between 90 and 99 per cent, in 6 (Khulna, Dacca, Tippera, Patna, Darbhanga, and Puri) between 80 and 89 per cent, and in 9 others, it varies between 70 and 79 per cent of a normal crop. The outturn in the remaining 17 districts falls below 70 per cent. The outturn for the Province as a whole, according to the district returns, amounts to 76 per cent only. In the first forecast, I anticipated that 90 per cent of a normal crop would eventually be harvested, but the crop has suffered from bad weather since then, and although the district returns are probably too low, the above estimate must be reduced by 10 per cent. I accordingly estimate the outturn of oilseeds for the Province, as a whole, at 80 per cent of a normal crop.

Gross outturn—Taking, as in former years, 6 maunds per acre to be the normal rate of outturn for linseed, rape and mustard, and  $1\frac{1}{4}$  maunds per acre for other oilseeds, the gross outturn of all the oilseed crops of these Provinces during 1900-1901 amounts to 575,600 tons against 617,900 tons produced in 1899-1900.

FINAL REPORT ON THE WHEAT CROP OF
BENGAL 1900 1901

THE following is published for general information

REV DEPT ,

F A SLACKE,

The 17th May, 1901

Secy to the Govt of Bengal

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE,
BENGAL

Final Report on the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1900 1901

1 Explanatory — This report furnishes the final estimates of the area and outturn of the wheat crop of the past season in these Provinces

Under the standing orders of Government a summary of the reports on the principal harvests of the year is included in this report and an abstract statement, containing the district reports regarding the fluctuations in the prices of food grains during the year and the present condition of food stocks in each district, is also appended to it

2 Character of the season — The rainfall of the year has been in many respects abnormal, and has proved very unfavourable to the wheat crop. In the monsoon period the fall was capricious and badly distributed. In September it was heavy and general, and in the Burdwan, Presidency, and Orissa Divisions greatly exceeded the normal. The fall in October was very much in defect all over the Province, except in Orissa, while in November there was practically no rain anywhere. In December also the fall was in defect everywhere, except in Orissa and in parts of Bihar and South West Bengal. The rainfall in January and February was very much in excess of the normal, except in North and East Bengal, and was especially heavy in the Chota Nagpur Division. The fall in March was below the average. The excess of rain in February caused serious damage to the wheat crop which was then ripe, and the crop in Bihar, which had promised well, gave but a poor outturn.

3 Area sown — Since the issue of the first forecast of this crop, several District Officers have revised their figures of normal area, and the total normal area under wheat in this Province now stands at 1,567,300 acres. The estimated area actually sown this year has also been revised in some cases, but is still some 36,800 acres above the normal. Last year only 1,500,300 acres were sown with this crop. The extension of cultivation is scarcely more than normal, and is practically confined to the districts of Murshidabad, Patna and Malda where some rice lands in which the winter rice crop had failed were sown with wheat.

4 Outturn—Since the publication of the preliminary forecast, the crop has improved in only three districts, while it has deteriorated in as many as twenty-three districts, the deterioration in the Patna Division due to unfavourable weather in February last being especially marked. From the annexed abstract of the final district returns, it will be seen that only one district (Mulda 110 per cent) now reports a crop above the normal, while four districts (Bibhum, Darjeeling, Champaran, and Angul) return a normal crop, and six (Midnapore, Rajshahi, Pabna, Saran, Bhugulpur, and the Sonthal Priganas) estimate a crop between 91 and 99 per cent. In five of the remaining districts the crop is estimated at between 81 and 90 per cent, and in eight others it is estimated at between 70 and 80 per cent, while the outturn in the remaining twelve falls below 70 per cent of a normal crop. In the first forecast of this crop which was based on its prospects as they stood at the end of January, it was anticipated that the January rain would, on the whole, prove beneficial to it, if followed, as might reasonably have been expected, by fine and sunny weather in February. Rain and cloud, however, continued, with the disastrous results which have been noted above. Although the damage has probably been overestimated in some districts, it has undoubtedly been great and I now estimate the actual outturn of the crop at 85 per cent only, as compared with an estimate of 105 per cent in the first forecast.

The gross outturn of the wheat crop may be roughly estimated as 507,000 tons as compared with an outturn of 572,700 tons in 1899-1900.

5 Summary of harvests—The following is a summary of the harvests of the year 1900-1901.

Bhadon or Autumn crops—The season was generally unfavourable to these crops, although less so than in the previous year. There was a smaller area than usual placed under them, the area under the bhadon food crops amounting to 12,704,300 acres only, as compared with a normal area of 13,744,400. The outturn of these food crops was about 90 per cent of the normal, while the jute crop was about normal and other non-food bhadon crops gave an outturn of about 85 per cent.

Winter rice—Owing to the capricious and unevenly distributed rainfall of the year, and to the serious floods occasioned by the September rains in the Burdwan Presidency, and Orissa Divisions, the winter rice crop of the Province was but a poor one. The area cultivated with this crop was estimated at 28,949,900 acres, against 31,239,300 acres in 1899, and the outturn was finally estimated at 88 per cent of a normal crop.

Rabi crops —The season has been generally unfavourable to the growth and ripening of the rabi crops. The area cultivated with them was below the normal, the area under rabi food crops amounting to 9,338,300 acres as against a normal area of 9,456,600 acres. The outturn of these crops averaged about 85 per cent in the past year as compared with an outturn of something over 90 per cent in 1899-1900.

6 Food stocks and the prices of food grains —The unprecedentedly heavy export of rice to the famine districts of Central and Western India during the past year has had some effect on the food stocks of the Province, and has caused prices to rule higher than usual in almost every district, while the produce of the year's supply of food grains has been generally below the average. The stocks in hand are said to be small in some districts, especially in parts of Chota Nagpur, and plentiful in others. They are probably, on the whole, sufficient.

7 Exports of wheat to Calcutta —From the trade statistics

Imports of wheat into Calcutta from the calendar year 1891 to 1900

|      | Mds.      |      | Mds.      |
|------|-----------|------|-----------|
| 1891 | 2,911,842 | 1896 | 588,084   |
| 1892 | 1,578,939 | 1897 | 192,009   |
| 1893 | 708,525   | 1898 | 958,771   |
| 1894 | 280,530   | 1899 | 2,177,546 |
| 1895 | 996,152   | 1900 | 1,210,787 |

quoted in the margin, it will be seen that there has been some falling off in the imports of wheat into Calcutta in the past year. This is probably due more to the direct export of wheat to North Western India than to any other cause.

RECEIPTS

2 PART I — Jetties — The receipts from the jetty charges are estimated at Rs 40,000 less than those of the preceding year. The estimate has been based on actuals. The receipts from the Petroleum Wharf show an increase of Rs 10,000.

3 PART II — Inland Vessels Wharves — The estimate, which is based on actuals, shows an increase of Rs 14,500 over that of the previous year.

4 PART III — Stand Bank Lands — The receipts show a falling off of Rs 10,794 as compared with those of the year before. This amount represents the expected decrease in the rent of the Riverside Press, which the present occupants are unable to pay and for which a new tenant will have to be found.

5 PART IV — Port or Harbour Master's Department — An increase of Rs 30,160 over that of the past year is expected, the estimate being based on actuals.

6 PART VI — Railway — An increase of Rs 7,000 over those of the previous year is anticipated in the earnings from the railway. The estimate for the Shalimar Branch is the same as that for the last year.

7 PART VII — Port Approaches — The estimate shows an increase of Rs 39,780 over that of the previous year, and is based on actuals.

8 PART VIII — Kulchipore Docs — The following statement shows the receipts under this head —

|   | Rs               |
|---|------------------|
| Receipts from graving dock                                  | 2,50,000         |
| Landing charges on imports                                  | 19,000           |
| Shipping charges on exports                                 | 19,40,000        |
| Terminal charges  | 2,80,000         |
| Hire wagons   | 90,000           |
| Light and miscellaneous                                     | 49,000           |
| Proportion of receipts from towing vessels by Hopper barges | 1,500            |
| Total  | 26,39,500 |

The receipts show an increase of Rs 8,12,000 as compared with those of the previous year. An increase of a lakh of rupees is expected from the receipts of the Graving Dock, the estimate being based on actuals. The estimated receipts from exports show an increase of Rs 1,10,000, while a larger income is also anticipated from the terminal charges, the hire of wagons, and miscellaneous charges. In all these cases the estimates have been based on actuals, with a fair addition for growth of business.

The receipts from imports show a falling off of Rs 11,000. As there has been a steady decrease in the revenue from this source, the estimate for 1901-1902 has been reduced.

9 Special Tolls — The receipts from special toll are estimated at Rs 9,75,000. The estimate has been based on actuals.

EXPENDITURE

10 PART I — Jetties — A reduction of Rs 13,832 is shown in the estimate of expenditure for the year under review, as against the estimate of the previous year. The estimate of expenditure on repairs, which showed a large increase in 1900-1901, has been reduced, and a reduced estimate has also been made for the "Working Expenses."

11 PART II — Inland Vessels Wharves — The expenditure shows an increase of Rs 56,594 over that of the previous year. An increased provision of Rs 39,000 has been made for "Renewals and Improvements" which are considered necessary. The interest and sinking fund charges also show an increase of Rs 20,632. The increase under this item represents the proportion of interest and sinking fund charges, chargeable to this part, for the debenture loan of 2½ lakhs, to be raised during 1901-1902. The remark applies also to the increased provision for these charges in other parts of the estimates.

12 PART III — Strand Bank Lands — The estimate of expenditure shows a small increase of Rs 460 over that of the previous year. This increase is due mainly to a larger estimate for the proportion of interest and sinking fund charges.

13 PART IV — Port or Harbour Master's Department — The expenditure is less than that of the year before by Rs 23,323. The estimate for "working expenses" has been reduced by Rs 20,000. There have been small reductions under other items, while there has been an increased provision of Rs 2,493 to meet the expenditure on the salaries of the Deputy Harbour Master, and three probationary Assistant Harbour Masters, which have been raised.

14 PART VI — Railway — The expenditure shows an increase of Rs 28,816. This is due mainly to an increase in the proportion of interest and sinking fund charges, which amounts to Rs 26,889.

15 PART VII — Port Approaches — There is a decrease of Rs 27,147 in the estimate of expenditure. A reduction of Rs 28,500 is shown in the estimate of repairs, while there is an increase of Rs 1,210 in the proportion of municipal taxes and repairs to Dockyards, and of Rs 600 in working expenses.

16 PART VIII — Kidderpore Docks — The expenditure shows an increase of Rs 2,69,316 over that of the previous year. There is an increase of Rs 91,019 in the "proportion of interest and sinking fund charges." The increased provision of Rs 24,154 under "Traffic Establishment" may have to be revised, in view of the recommendation of the recent Commission of Enquiry. The working expenses show an increase of Rs 1,42,320. This increased provision is considered necessary to meet the charges on account of an anticipated growth of business.

CAPITAL ACCOUNT

17 The receipts under Capital are estimated at Rs 34,28,025, made up as follows —

| Contribution from Revenue   | 1 20 110  |           |

The debenture loan of Rs 23,50,000 has been sanctioned by Government.

18 The Capital Budget provides for an expenditure of Rs 31,74,415 on works in progress and on works proposed.

The probable expenditure on the latter during 1901 1902, as given in the budget, is shown below —

|                               | Rs.            |
|-------------------------------|----------------|
| Minor Works                   | 2 00 000       |
| Mechanical loading appliances | 1 50,000       |
| Total                         | <hr/> 3,50,000 |

The sanction of Government to the second of these items was communicated in the letter No 568 Marine of the 15th March 1901.

19 The Commission which was recently appointed to enquire into matters connected with the Port Trust, has made various recommendations for reduction of expenditure. These recommendations were not before the Commissioners when this budget was framed. The Commission suggests the abolition of the post of Deputy Traffic Manager. The establishment in the Docks is considered excessive, and the Commission considers that one of the two Deputy Superintendents and eight out of the fourteen Assistant Superintendents should be abolished. The Sub Committee appointed by the Commission have suggested a number of reductions which have been accepted by the Commission in paragraph 176 of its report. Certain reductions are also suggested in the Tea Warehouse establishment. The Lieutenant Governor would ask the Commissioners, to revise their budget, as soon as they can, in the light of the recommendations made by the Commission, and to show the reductions which are feasible during the current year. The Budget does not provide for the appointment of the Chief Engineer recently sanctioned by Government, and due provision should be made for the expenditure under this head in the revised estimates of the Commissioners.

20 Subject to the above remarks, the Lieutenant Governor, in pursuance of the powers vested in him by section 71 of Act III (B C) of 1890, approves of the estimate of income and expenditure of the Commissioners for the year 1901 1902.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

R B BUCKLEY,

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE CALCUTTA MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS FOR THE YEAR 1900

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT - MEDICAL

Dated, the 18th May 1901

RESOLUTION—No 285T—M

READ—

The Report on the Calcutta Medical Institutions for the year 1900

Read also—

The Report for the year 1899 and the Resolution recorded thereon

JUDGED by the statistics contained in the report, the year 1900 appears to have been exceptionally unhealthy. The death rate per mille in the town of Calcutta rose from 37.8 to 53.88, and in Howrah from 44.56 to 60.50. These figures are based on the population shown in the census of 1891, and a calculation based on the provisional figures arrived at in the census of 1901 reduces the ratio for Calcutta to 43.54 and that for Howrah to 44.69. Even allowing for this, however, there was a considerable increase in the mortality from all the principal diseases. Plague, which prevailed with greater virulence and caused no less than 8,354 deaths against 2,332 in 1899, is, no doubt, the most important factor in increasing the rate of mortality, but the percentage of deaths from other prevalent diseases shows an increase under every heading. Different theories have been put forward by different officers as to the cause of the increase, but the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals rightly observes that they are of a very conjectural character. It is, however, evident that the unusual rainfall of September last had much to do with the increased death rate.

2 There is some confusion in the section of the report relating to the health of the Port of Calcutta. The explanation of an apparent increase in the number of inward bound vessels inspected is not intelligible. The magnitude of the work involved in the plague inspections is shown by the numbers involved. Over a quarter of a million persons, passengers and crew were medically inspected, and the clothing and bedding of 79,255 were disinfected. 55 seamen and 234 passengers were detained as a result of the examination.

3 The large increase of 32,520 in the number of outdoor patients is mainly due to the greater unhealthiness of the year, but about one third of this is only nominal, being due to the inclusion in this report for the first time of the statistics of the Municipal and Dockyard Dispensaries at Kidderpore, which had hitherto been shown in the Report on Charitable Dispensaries. The total number of indoor patients rose from 24,146 to 28,372. In both classes the increase was pretty generally distributed, and was due to the unhealthiness of the year. The increase of 150 out patients at the Presidency General Hospital justifies the continued maintenance of that department, on which doubts had been thrown. The Shambu Nath Pundit Hospital is stated to possess only 54 beds, but the average number of beds occupied daily is shown as 57.77. Unless there is some mistake, this is evidence of overcrowding. This new hospital is rapidly rising in popularity. The number of European seamen admitted to the General Hospital is said to have fallen, though the numbers arriving in the port increased by nearly 10 per cent. The Differin Victoria Hospital for women increased its tale of out patients by 749, but the in patients fell off their number is still insignificant—a daily average of only 9.56.

4 Excluding the cases treated in the Eye Infirmary, the death rate for all the institutions rose from 14.60 to 17.57, the highest mortality recorded for 11 years. All the larger hospitals recorded a higher mortality, except the Mayo and the Shambu Nath Pundit. The rate as usual was highest in the

Campbell and Howrah Hospitals. The Inspector General proposes to make a special enquiry in the case of the latter. There are several typographical errors in the tabular statements at pages 10 to 13 of the Report.

5 The number of admissions for small pox rose from 42 to 240, but the death rate fell from 47.61 to 42.91. Of the 239 persons admitted into the Campbell Hospital for small pox, 177, or 74.05 per cent, were unprotected. The attention of the Lieutenant Governor has already been drawn to the inefficient state of vaccination in the town, which these figures and the statistics previously furnished have brought to light. He has animadverted strongly on the imperfect enforcement of the vaccination laws, and has directed a thorough enquiry to be made into the matter through the Corporation of Calcutta. The number of admissions for cholera rose from 55 to 728, the rate of mortality being 61.12 against 63.94. The mortality was highest in the Howrah General Hospital. There were fifteen cases of cholera among the patients of the Campbell Hospital, ten of which proved fatal. The Inspector General of Civil Hospitals attributes the outbreak of the disease in this institution in two successive years to the vicinity of the hospital to the municipal refuse dépôt and platform. Steps are being taken to abate the nuisance caused by this, but looking to the fact that the platform has been in existence for a long time without causing an outbreak of disease, the Lieutenant Governor doubts whether the Inspector General's conclusion is correct. The percentage of deaths from dysentery was exceptionally high in the General Hospital, being 11.11 against 3.03 in the previous year, and is attributed to a larger number of chronic cases. Malarial fever caused 5,456 admissions against 4,376 in the previous year, and it seems from the rise in the rate of mortality from 9.12 to 11.01 that the cases were of severer type. Four hundred and forty nine cases of plague were admitted during the year, of which 92 recovered and 57 died, giving a death rate of 79.51 per cent.

6 There was an increase in the number of operations the figures for the past two years being 26,023 and 29,109 respectively. Of these cases, 188 ended fatally, giving a percentage of 7.2 against 6.1 in the previous year. The increase is shared by all the institutions, except the Medical College and the General Hospital, in which latter institution it is accounted for again by the admission of fewer seamen. The Lieutenant Governor notices with satisfaction the large number of operations performed by Lieutenant Colonels R. C. Sanders, i m s, R. D. Murray, i m s, Major R. H. Charles, i m s, Captain R. Bird, i m s, and Assistant Surgeon Norindia Nath Basu.

7 In the Eden Hospital the number of women and children admitted increased from 1,494 to 1,659. The death rate for Europeans and Eurasians was 5.30 against 5.45, and for all others 8.96 against 9.55. The mortality among European and Eurasian children was rather high, being 15.87 against 14.10, and the increase is attributed to the admission of a large number of cases in moribund condition. Confinement cases increased from 638 to 673. This institution is steadily, if slowly, growing in popularity and contrasts favourably in this respect with the Dufferin Victoria Hospital, which seems to make little progress.

8 In the Shama Charan Law Tye Hospital the number of indoor patients rose from 476 to 518, but that of outdoor patients diminished from 13,103 to 12,816. Operations for extraction of lens numbered 290, in 81.37 per cent of which vision was restored—a most satisfactory record.

9 The work of the nurses at the Medical College and the Presidency General Hospitals, under the supervision of the Clewer Sisters, is favourably reported on by the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals. The Clewer community has recently sent out an additional Sister for supervising the nursing arrangements of the Calcutta hospitals, and a scheme has been prepared for improving the system of nursing at those institutions.

10 The invested capital of the Calcutta and Howrah Hospitals rose from Rs 5,91,700 to Rs 5,96,200, an increase of only Rs 4,500, which was invested by the Mayo and Howrah Hospitals. Excluding opening balances, the total income amounted to Rs 9,87,967, or Rs 9,202 less than in 1899. The cost to Government decreased by Rs 25,346, while the receipts from paying patients increased from Rs 55,858 to Rs 63,346, owing chiefly to the higher rate charged for private rooms in the General Hospital. The receipts from Local funds also show an increase of Rs 7,446, while the receipts from Hospital Port Dues Fund fell by Rs 9,843, owing to the admission of fewer seamen. Subscriptions from Europeans show a slight increase, but those from Natives, the Lieutenant Governor regrets to observe, fell off by Rs 2,401. The expenditure fell from Rs 9,93,230 to Rs 9,84,631, the decrease being mainly due to smaller expenditure on the new buildings at the Presidency General Hospital.

11 The thanks of the Lieutenant Governor are due to Colonel Hendley, who held the office of Inspector General of Civil Hospitals throughout the year, for his frequent inspection of the Calcutta hospitals and his valuable suggestions in regard to them.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

E N BAKER,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal

| The mean pressure, temperature &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations  |       |
| The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground. |       |
| The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor General's Office.   |       |
| The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.   |       |
| The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.   |       |
| The mouth of the rain gauge is one foot above the ground.   |       |
